

AHE unveils new line of switches

Al Hassan Electricals Co (AHE) and its principal, SCAME, Italian manufacturer of electrical components, joined forces to launch two new lines of switches at the Crowne Plaza Hotel recently.

AHE, part of the Trading SBU of the Al Hassan Group, is a distributor of electrical equipment, lighting products, energy management systems, transmission and distribution equipment and building construction products in Oman.

AHE covers Oman through five showrooms in the Muscat capital region at Hamriya, Walja (Honda Road), Ghubra, Seeb and Al Khoudh, a network of more than 400 dealers and warehouses serviced daily by its own fleet of vehicles.

AHE has a specialised lighting division which provides project lighting solutions to commercial buildings, residential complexes, utilities, ministries, hospitals, industrial installations, shopping malls and infrastructure projects.
