ROP certifies Berger Paints products for fire protection

MUSCAT: Focusing on increased safety for consumers, Berger Paints has recently introduced a wide range of “Flame Spread Resistant” products in Oman. In layman’s language, these products offer increased safety in cases of fire by limiting the spread of surface flames. The work on formulating these products started over a year ago. While the products themselves were developed and internally tested, Berger worked with premier third party-fire protection laboratories – Warrington Fire from the UK to get these products independently certified as per international standards. Post this Berger Paints applied to Civil Defence – Royal Oman Police for accreditation. Following rigorous tests carried out by ROP at Berger Paints factory in early August, the ROP has certified three product lines, Weathercoat FR (a smooth emulsion, which is available in 1,500 ready shades from any Berger ColourWorld) & Weathercoat FR Tex (a range of textures).
